Hello, it's me, the translator (code name Aren)
I finally managed to translate to chapter 2 aha.
But I'd like to mention that the main character's name is Yungsu, pronounced like Yung-Soo Iyang is pronounced Ee-Yang
I feel like Korean names are often mispronounced so I had to get that out there
Also, there are some puns that I have no clue how to translate into english For example, the babies joke In korea, Legs and Bridges have the same spelling When you're a kid, your mom or dad would joke that they picked you up from under the bridge (and you would cry a lot hearing this), but you would later find out bridge = legs
If you know how to make these puns work in english, please tell me!
